From The Grill

Argentinean Beef has earned a reputation for being some of the world's best. It's widely known for being incomparably tender and richly flavored, even though it's rarely seasoned with anything but salt. Over 150 years ago, The Argentinean Gauchos brought the Hereford Breed from England. Over the years, the breed has become one of the most popular in the country. From then to now, it is instrumental in making a name for Argentinean cuts worldover.
